Dear Parents/Carers

Last half-term finished with the Annual Founder's Day Service at Holy Trinity Church. Our students behaved impeccably, showing a great deal of pride in our school. The theme of 'Refugees' certainly struck a chord with everyone, and Andrew Mitchell MP certainly gave us some interesting things to think about. It was also good to see a substantial amount of money, £525.20, collected for our designated charity for this event, the Medical Missionaries of Mary. Thank you to all who made the service possible, especially Russell Bowen, Deputy Headteacher.

Over half-term the Times Educational Supplement published an interesting article on school admissions quoting Department for Education data for 2014-15 that Bishop Vesey's Grammar School is the ninth most popular school in England in terms of the number of applications for the places available. It was good to see external validation of the healthy interest that parents and families have in our school.

We started the week on Tuesday with House Meetings. Thank you to all the Sixth Form leaders for organising these. Also a big thank you to Adam Spinner and Andre Gill for their intelligent feedback on the candidates we interviewed for posts this week. It was good to see that the student voice continues to be an important part of our staff selection processes.

Around the school this week I have popped in to a number of lessons. I was particularly impressed with some of the Year 7 Mathematicians I met. Talking of Mathematicians, it was good to see a full Old Big School for the Senior Maths Challenge, organised by Mr Willis, Second in Mathematics. We also wish luck to all those taking external examinations this week, including the fiendishly difficult Oxbridge papers.

In assemblies, we were delighted to welcome University of Nottingham Outreach Officer, Andrew Cotterill OV, who also, as a talented linguist himself, spent some time supporting our Oxbridge linguists. Meanwhile, it was a pleasure to welcome Dr Balraj Dhesi OV to MedSoc. At the same time Mr Baugh led some thought-provoking assemblies on the Gunpowder Plot.

Unfortunately Junior Debating was cancelled this week, however we will meet again next Wednesday in Old Big School from 13:15. However, yesterday I met with fourteen Sixth Formers interested in taking part in the English Speaking Union Mace Competition on Thursday 26 November. They seem an excellent bunch and have been charged with preparing for one of three possible debates. We will meet again on Tuesday break-time in my office. Any interested Sixth Form students, other than these fourteen, are also welcome.

Today we have welcomed Célia Demarchi OV from Oxford University to continue with her Psychology research. We are delighted with parental support for this work.

Also this week was the Sixth Form Art trip to London led by Mrs Heer and Mrs Rowlands. They went to The Wellcome Gallery, Whitechapel Gallery, Tate Britain, and both Serpentine Galleries. It was a fantastic day with lots of inspiration from contemporary and traditional exhibits. Students were fascinated by the opportunity to think 'outside the box', looking at many installations, and deeper concepts in the world of Art today.

Tonight is the joint Year 7 and 8 Disco with Sutton Girls here at BVGS from 19:30 until 21:15. Please support the PAC and Mr Bowen by picking up your boys promptly. Hopefully the Year 7 LEPR workout to raise money for India will have helped them work on their moves!

It is always nice to hear of student successes. Well done to Upraaj Bains who won a bronze medal in the 2015 World Karate Championships. Well done also to Alex Dixon from Year 7, one of twenty national finalists in Richard Branson's Junior Necker Cup Tennis Tournament on Saturday.

I have also heard lots of good things about the Junior Rugby Tour to Ireland. A big thank-you to Messrs Whiting, Greenwood, Graham and Joy for an excellent opportunity for our boys.

Mr Davies is keen for me to let you know about our inaugural Golf Day raising money for school sport on 8 June 2016. Book now to avoid disappointment. For further information about BVGS Sport visit www.bvgssport.co.uk. Something that might not be on the website is our superb Cross Country success this week at QM. Well done to our Senior team.

This afternoon we hold our annual Early Entry Interview Afternoon here at school. A big thank you to all our interviewers supporting our 57 early entrants. Without the generosity of the Vesey Community, our students would not be as well supported as they are.

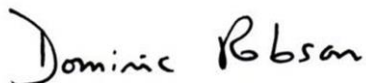

Next week we mark Children In Need with three events. On Tuesday we have a 'Question of Sport' for Pudsey at 13:15 in Big School and on Friday we hold our non-uniform day and our Boys v Girls Netball Contest. Please encourage your sons and daughters to support our charitable fundraising.

On the subject of charity, you might like to know that our Artsfest total stands at £1260.08. This will fund Our Place Community Hub.

On Sunday the School Captain, Deputies and I will be laying a wreath as part of the Royal Town's Remembrance Day Service. On Wednesday the school will stop for three simultaneous Remembrance Services. As always it will be an emotional and reflective moment.

Wishing you a relaxing weekend.

Yours sincerely

Art and Design Star of the Week

Zachary Farmer, 10B. Natural forms, seen in a different light. Zach has used brushes and biro techniques, to enhance his skull form. An extremely talented artist, well done !
