SOW may change throughout the year depending on time and context.

Sequencing:

Racism & Discrimination

The year 8 curriculum builds on knowledge taught in year 7. Year 7 SOW began with Commando Joe's, developing team building skills. This knowledge is discussed when examining racism and discrimination and how such behaviours will lead to poor collaboration within the workplace and other settings. STRCTR competition links back to year 7's work on islamophobia and humanitarian crises. Students apply knowledge of discrimination to other protected characteristics e.g. sexuality and gender, gaining an understanding that any form of discrimination is unlawful and wrong.

E-Literacy

Online safety is an ongoing conversation in year 8 discussing the highs and lows of being active online. Links are made to previous knowledge on 'cyberbullying' and how this is a negative consequence. Students gain additional information on plagiarism and what this means in relation to academic studies. This is building on prior knowledge taught on copyright.

Knife Crime and Drug Education

Knife crime and drug education is discussed further examining not only the implications to the individual/victim but other members of the community. The learning engages more wider conversations looking at the 'ripple effect'

Relationships

Relationships and diversity within families is discussed further. Examining the LGBTQ+ community building on knowledge learnt about same sex families and the importance about being tolerant of others.
